Bait Advertising

(2) Any person who has, in trade, advertised goods or services for supply at a specified price shall offer such goods or services for supply at that price for a period that is, and in quantities that are, reasonable having regard to the nature of the market in which he carries on business and the nature of the advertisement.

(3) In a prosecution of a person in relation to a failure to offer goods or services to a person (in this sub-section referred to as the 'customer') in accordance with sub-section (2), it is a defence for that person if he establishes that:

- (a) he offered to supply or to procure another person to supply goods or services of the kind advertised to the customer within a reasonable time, in a reasonable quantity and at the advertised price; or
- (b) he offered to supply immediately, or to procure another person to supply within a reasonable time, equivalent goods or services to the customer in a reasonable quantity and at the price at which the first-mentioned "goods" or "services" were advertised, and, in either case, where the offer was accepted by the customer, he has so supplied, or procured another person to supply, goods or services.

25.-(1) No person shall, in connection with the supply or possible supply of goods or services to a person, engage in conduct that is, in all the circumstances, unconscionable.

(2) Without in any way limiting the matters to which the Court may have regard for the purpose of determining whether a person has contravened sub-section (1) in connection with the supply or possible supply of goods or services to a person (in this sub-section referred to as the 'consumer'), the Court may have regard to:

- (a) the relevant strengths of the bargaining positions of the person and the consumer;
- (b) whether, as a result of conduct engaged in by the person, the consumer was required to comply with conditions that were not reasonably necessary for the protection of the legitimate interests of the supplier;

- (c) whether the consumer was able to understand any documents relating to the supply or possible supply of the goods or services;
- (d) whether any undue influence or pressure was exerted on, or any unfair tactics were used against, the consumer or a person acting on behalf of the consumer by the person in relation to the supply or possible supply of the goods or services; and
- (e) the amount for which, and the circumstances under which, the consumer could have acquired identical or equivalent goods or services from a person other than a body corporate.

(3) A person shall not be taken for the purposes of this section to engage in unconscionable conduct in connection with the supply or possible supply of goods or services to a person by reason only that he institutes legal proceedings in relation to that supply or possible supply or refers a dispute or claim in relation to that supply or possible supply to arbitration.

(4) For the purposes of determining whether a person has contravened sub-section (1) in connection with the supply or possible supply of goods or services to a person:

- (a) the Court shall not have regard to any circumstances that were not reasonably forceable at the time of the alleged contravention; and
- (b) the Court may have regard to conduct engaged in, or circumstances existing, before the commencement of this section.

(5) A reference in this section to goods or services is a reference to goods or services of a kind ordinarily acquired for personal, domestic or household use or consumption.

(6) A reference in this section to the supply or possible supply of goods does not include a reference to the supply or possible supply of goods for the purpose of re-supply or for the purpose of using them up or transforming them in trade or commerce.

PART VI

IMPLIED CONDITIONS IN CONSUMER CONTRACTS

Conflict of laws

26.-(1) Where:

- (a) the proper law of a contract for the supply by any person of goods or services to a consumer would, but for a term that it should be the law of some other country or a term to the like effect, be the law of any part of the United Republic; or
- (b) a contract for the supply by any person of goods or services to a consumer contains a term that purports to substitute, or has the effect of substituting, provisions of the law of some other country for all or any of the provisions of this Part.

(2) This Part shall apply to any type of contract made or entered between parties under this Act.

Application of provisions not to be excluded or modified

27.-(1) Any term of a contract (including term that is not set out in the contract but is incorporated in the contract by another term of the contract) that purports to exclude, restrict or modify has the effect of excluding, restricting or modifying:

- (a) the application of all or any of the provisions of this Part;
- (b) the exercise of a right conferred by such a provision;
- (c) any liability of the person for breach of a condition or warranty implied by such a provision; or
- (d) the application of section 35, is void.

(2) A term of a contract shall not be taken to exclude, restrict or modify the application of a provision of this Part or the application of section 35 unless the term does so expressly or is inconsistent with that provision or section.

Limitation of liability for breach of certain conditions or warranties

28.-(1) Subject to this section, a term of a contract for the supply by a person of goods or services other than goods or services of a kind ordinarily acquired for personal, domestic or household use or consumption is not void under this section by reason only that the term limits his liability for a breach of a condition or warranty (other than a condition or warranty implied by section 29) to:

- (a) in the case of goods:
 - (i) the replacement of the goods or the supply of equivalent goods;

- (ii) the payment of the cost of replacing the goods or of acquiring equivalent goods;
 - (iii) the payment of the cost of having the goods repaired; or
- (b) in the case of services:
- (i) the supplying of the services again; or
 - (ii) the payment of the cost of having the services supplied again.

(2) The provisions of sub-section (1) do not apply in relation to a term of a contract if the person to whom the goods or services were supplied establishes that it is not fair or reasonable for the supplier to rely on that term of the contract.

(3) In determining for the purposes of sub-section (2) whether or not reliance on a term of a contract is fair or reasonable, a court shall have regard to all the circumstances of the case and in particular to the following matters:

- (a) the strength of the bargaining positions of the supplier and the person to whom the goods or services were supplied, in this sub-section referred to as 'the buyer' relative to each other, taking into account, among other things, the availability of equivalent goods or services and suitable alternative sources of supply;
- (b) whether the buyer received an inducement to agree to the term or, in agreeing to the term, had an opportunity of acquiring the goods or services or equivalent goods or services from any source of supply under a contract that did not include that term;
- (c) whether the buyer knew or ought reasonably to have known of the existence and extent of the term, having regard, among other things, to any custom of the trade and any previous course of dealing between the parties; and
- (d) in the case of the supply of goods, whether the goods were manufactured, processed or adapted to the special order of the buyer.

Implied undertakings as to title, encumbrances and quiet possession

29.-(1) Where in a contract for the supply of goods by a supplier to a consumer, other than a contract to which sub-section (3) applies, there is:

- (a) an implied condition that, in the case of a supply by way of sale, the supplier has a right to sell the goods, and, in the case of an agreement to sell or a hire-purchase agreement, the supplier will have a right to sell the goods at the time when the property is to pass;
- (b) an implied warranty that the consumer will enjoy quiet possession of the goods except so far as it may lawfully be disturbed by the supplier or by another person who is entitled to the benefit of any charge or encumbrance disclosed or known to the consumer before the contract is made; and
- (c) in the case of a contract for the supply of goods under which the property is to pass or may pass to the consumer—implied warranty that the goods are free, and will remain free until the time when the property passes, from any charge or encumbrance not disclosed or known to the consumer before the contract is made.

(2) A person is not, in relation to a contract for the supply of goods, in breach of the implied warranty referred to in paragraph (c) of subsection (1) by reason only of the existence of a floating charge over assets of the supplier unless and until the charge becomes fixed and enforceable by the person to whom the charge is given.

(3) In a contract for the supply of goods by the supplier to a consumer in the case of which there appears from the contract or is to be inferred from the circumstances of the contract an intention that the supplier should transfer only such title as he or a third person may have, there is:

- (a) an implied warranty that all charges of encumbrances known to the supplier and not known to the consumer have been disclosed to the consumer before the contract is made; and
- (b) an implied warranty that:
 - (i) the supplier;

- (ii) in a case where the parties to the contract intend that the supplier should transfer only such title as a third person may have - that person; and
- (iii) any one claiming through or under the supplier or that third person otherwise than under a charge or encumbrance disclosed or known to the consumer before the contract is made,

will not disturb the consumer's quiet possession of the goods.

30.-(1) Where there is a contract for the supply, otherwise than by way of sale, by auction, by a person in the course of a business of goods to a consumer by description, there is an implied condition that goods will correspond with the description, and, if the supply is by reference to a sample as well as by description, it is not sufficient that the bulk of the goods corresponds with the sample if the goods do not also correspond with the description.

Supply
by description

(2) A supply of goods is not prevented from being a supply by description for the purposes of sub-section (1) by reason only that, being exposed for sale or hire, they are selected by the consumer.

31.-(1) Where a person supplies, otherwise than by way of sale, by auction, goods to a consumer in the course of a business, there is an implied condition that the goods supplied under the contract for the supply of the goods are of merchantable quality, except that there is no such condition by virtue only of this section:

Implied
undertakings as to quality and fitness

- (a) as regards defects specifically drawn to the consumer's attention before the contract is made; or
- (b) if the consumer examines the goods before the contract is made, as regards defects which that examination ought to reveal.

(2) Where a person supplies otherwise than by way of sale, by auction goods to a consumer in the course of a business and the consumer, expressly or by implication, makes known to the person by whom any antecedent negotiations are conducted any particular purpose for which the goods are being acquired, there is an implied condition that the goods supplied under the contract for the supply of the goods are reasonably fit for that purpose, whether or not that is a purpose for which such goods are commonly supplied, except where the circumstances show that the consumer does not rely, or that it is unreasonable for him to rely, on the skill or judgment of that person.

(3) Sub-sections (1) and (2) shall apply to a contract for the supply of goods made by a person who in the course of a business is acting as agent for another person as they apply to a contract for the supply of goods made by a person in the course of a business, except where that person is not supplying in the course of a business and either the consumer knows that fact or reasonable steps are taken to bring it to the notice of the consumer before the contract is made.

Supply
by sample

32. Where in a contract for the supply, otherwise than by way of supply by sale by auction by a person in the course of a business of goods to a consumer there is a term in the contract, expressed or implied, to the effect that the goods are supplied by reference to a sample:

- (a) there is an implied condition that the bulk will correspond with the sample in quality;
- (b) there is an implied condition that the consumer will have a reasonable opportunity of comparing the bulk with the sample; and
- (c) there is an implied condition that the goods will be free from any defect, rendering them unmerchantable, that would not be apparent on reasonable examination of the sample.

Liability
for loss
damage from breach of certain

33.-(1) Where:

- (a) a person, in this section referred to as the 'supplier' supplies goods, or causes goods to be supplied, to a linked credit provider of the supplier and a contracts consumer enters into a contract with the linked credit provider for the provision of credit in respect of the supply by way of sale, lease, hire or hire purchase of the goods to the consumer; or
- (b) a consumer enters into a contract with a linked credit provider of a supplier for the provisions of credit in respect of the supply by the supplier of goods or services, or goods and services, to the consumer; and the consumer suffers loss or damage as a result of misrepresentation, breach of contract, or failure of consideration in relation to the contract, or as a result of a breach of a condition that is implied in the contract by virtue of sections 30, 31 and 32 or of a warranty that is implied in the contract by virtue of section 34, the supplier and the linked credit provider are, subject to this section; jointly and severally liable to the consumer for the amount of the loss or damage, and the consumer may recover that amount by action in accordance with this section in a court of competent jurisdiction.

(2) Where:

- (a) a supplier supplies goods, or causes goods to be supplied, to a credit provider who is not a linked credit provider of the supplier;
- (b) a consumer enters into a contract with the credit provider for the provision of credit in respect of the supply by way of sale, lease, hire or hire-purchase of the goods to the consumer;
- (c) antecedent negotiations in relation to the contract were conducted with the consumer by or on behalf of the supplier; and
- (d) the credit provider did not take physical possession of the goods before they were delivered to the consumer; or where a consumer enters into a contract with a credit provider for the provision of credit in respect of the supply of services to the consumer by a supplier of which the credit provider is not a linked credit provider, and the consumer suffers loss or damage as a result of a breach of a condition that is implied in the contract by virtue of sections 30, 31 and 32 or of a warranty that is implied in the contract by virtue of section 34, the credit provider is not under any liability to the consumer for the amount of the loss or damage but the consumer may recover that amount by action in a court of competent jurisdiction against the supplier.

(3) A linked credit provider of a particular supplier is not liable to a consumer by virtue of sub-section (1) in proceedings arising under that sub-section if the credit provider establishes:

- (a) that the credit provided by the credit provider to the consumer was the result of an approach made to the credit provider by the consumer that was not induced by the supplier;

- (b) where the proceedings relate to the supply by way of lease, hire or hire-purchase of goods by the linked credit provider to the consumer, that:
 - (i) after due inquiry before becoming a linked credit provider of the supplier, the credit provider was satisfied that the reputation of the supplier in respect of the suppliers financial standing and business conduct was good; and
 - (ii) after becoming a linked credit provider of the supplier the credit provider had not had cause to suspect that:
 - (aa) the consumer might be entitled to recover an amount of loss or damage suffered as a result of misrepresentation or breach of a condition or warranty referred to in sub-section (1); and
 - (bb) the supplier might be unable to meet the liabilities of the supplier liabilities as and when they fall due;
- (c) where the proceedings relate to a contract of sale with respect to which a tied loan contract applies, that:
 - (i) after due inquiry before becoming a linked credit provider of the supplier, the credit provider was satisfied that the reputation of the supplier in respect of the supplier's financial standing and business conduct was good; and
 - (ii) after becoming a linked credit provider of the supplier, but before the tied loan contract was entered into, the linked credit provider had not had cause to suspect that:
 - (aa) the consumer might, if the contract was entered into, be entitled to recover an amount of loss or damage suffered as result of misrepresentation, breach of contract or failure of consideration in relation to the contract or as a result of a breach of a sub-section (1); and

- (bb) the supplier might be unable to meet the liabilities of the suppliers as and when they fall due; or
- (d) where the proceedings relate to a contract of sale with respect to which a tied continuing credit contract entered into by the linked credit provider applies, that, having regard to:
 - (i) the nature and volume of business carried on by the linked credit provider; and
 - (ii) such other matters as appear to be relevant in the circumstances of the case;

the linked credit provider, before becoming aware of the contract of sale or of proposals for the making of the contract of sale, whichever the linked credit provider first became aware of, had no cause to suspect that a person entering into such a contract with the supplier might be entitled to claim damages against, or recover a sum of money from, the supplier for misrepresentation, breach of contract, failure of consideration, breach of a condition or breach of a warranty as referred to in sub-section (1).

(4) Subject to sub-section (5), in any proceedings in relation to a contract referred to in paragraph (a) or (b) of subsection (1) in which a credit provider claims damages or an amount of money from a consumer, the consumer may set up the liability of the credit provider under sub-section (1) in diminution or extinction of the consumers liability.

(5) Subject to sub-section (6), a consumer may not, in respect of a liability for which, by reason of this section, a supplier and a linked credit provider are jointly and severally liable:

- (a) bring proceedings to recover an amount of loss or damage from the credit provider; or
- (b) where proceedings are brought against the consumer by the credit provider, make a counter claim or exercise the right conferred by sub-section (4) against the credit provider:

unless the consumer brings the action against the supplier and the credit provider jointly or, in the case of a counter claim or right conferred by sub-section (4), claims in the proceedings against the supplier in respect of the liability by third party proceedings or otherwise.

(6) Sub-section (5), paragraph (a) of subsections (8) and (9)(a) do not apply in relation to proceedings where:

- (a) the supplier has been dissolved or is commenced to be wound up; or
- (b) in the opinion of the court in which the proceedings are taken, it is not reasonably likely that a judgement obtained against the supplier would be satisfied and the court has, on the application of the consumer, declared that sub-section (5) and paragraphs (a) of sub-section (8) and paragraph (a) of sub-section (9) do not apply in relation to the proceedings.

(7) The liability of a linked credit provider to a consumer for damages or a sum of money in respect of a contract referred to in sub-section (1) does not exceed the sum of:

- (a) the amount financed under the tied loan contract, tied continuing credit contract, lease contract, contract of hire or contract of hire purchase;
- (b) the amount of interest (if any) or damages in the nature of interest allowed or awarded against the linked credit provider by the court; and
- (c) the amount of costs (if any) awarded by the court against the linked credit provider or supplier or both.

(8) Where in proceedings arising under sub-section (1), judgement is given against a supplier and a linked credit provider, the judgement:

- (a) shall not be enforced against the linked credit provider unless a written demand made on the supplier for satisfaction of the judgement has remained unsatisfied for not less than thirty days; and
- (b) may be enforced against the linked credit provider only to the extent of:

- (i) the amount calculated in accordance with sub-section (7); or
- (ii) so much of the judgement debt as has not been satisfied by the supplier;
whichever is the lesser.

(9) Unless the linked credit provider and supplier otherwise agree, the supplier is liable to the linked credit provider for the amount of a loss suffered by the linked credit provider, being an amount not exceeding the maximum amount of the linked credit provider's liability under sub-section (7) and, unless the court otherwise determines, the amount of costs (if any) reasonably incurred by the linked credit provider in defending the proceedings by reason of which the liability was incurred.

(10) Notwithstanding any other law, where in proceedings arising under sub-section (1), judgement is given against a supplier and a linked credit provider or against a linked credit provider for an amount of loss or damage, the court in which the proceedings are taken shall, on the application of the consumer, unless good cause is shown to the contrary, award interest to the consumer against the supplier and credit provider or against the credit provider, as the case may be, upon the whole or part of the amount, from the time when the consumer became entitled to recover the amount until the date on which the judgement is given, at whichever of the following rates is the greater:

- (a) where the amount payable by the consumer to the credit provider for the reason of obtaining credit in connection with the goods or services to which the proceedings relate may be calculated at a percentage rate per annum – that rate or, if more than one such rate may be calculated, the lower or lowest of those rates;
- (b) eight percent or such other rate as is prescribed.

(11) In determining whether good cause is shown against awarding interest under sub-section (10) on the whole or part of an amount of loss or damage, the court shall take into account any payment made into court by the supplier or credit provider.

(12) Where a judgement given in proceedings arising under sub-section (1) is enforced against a linked credit provider of a particular supplier, the credit provider is subrogated to the extent of the judgement so enforced to any rights that the consumer would have had but for the judgement against the supplier or any other person.

(13) In this section:

“tied loan contract” means a loan contract entered into between a credit provider and a consumer where:

- (a) the credit provider knows or ought reasonably to know that the consumer enters into the loan contract wholly or partly for the purposes of payment for goods or services supplied by a supplier; and
- (b) at the time the loan contract is entered into the credit provider as a linked credit provider of the supplier.

34.-(1) In every contract for the supply by a supplier in the course of a business of services to a consumer there is an implied warranty that the services will be rendered with due care and skill and that any materials supplied in connection on or with those services will be reasonably fit for the purpose for which are supplied.

Warranties in relation to the supply of services

(2) Where a person supplies services, other than services of a professional nature provided by a qualified architect or engineer, to a consumer in the course of a business and the consumer, expressly or by implication, makes known to him any particular purpose for which the services are required or the result that he desires the services to achieve, there is an implied warranty that the services supplied under the contract for the supply of the services and any materials supplied in connection with those services will be reasonably fit or are of such a nature and quality that they, for that purpose, might reasonably be expected to achieve that result, except where the circumstances show that the consumer does not rely, or that it is unreasonable for him to rely on, the person's skill or judgment.

(3) A reference in this section to services does not include a reference to services that are, or are to be, provided, granted or conferred under:

- (a) a contract for or in relation to the transportation or storage of goods for the purposes of a business, trade, profession or occupation carried on or engaged in by the person for whom the goods are transported or stored; or

 - (i) causing to be served on the supplier a notice in writing signed by him giving particulars of the breach; or
 - (ii) causing the goods to be returned to the supplier and giving to him either orally or in writing, particulars of the breach.

(2) Where a consumer purports to rescind under this section a contract for the supply of goods by any person, the purported rescission does not have any effect if:

- (a) the notice is not served or the goods are not returned within a reasonable time after the consumer has had a reasonable opportunity of inspecting the goods;
- (b) in the case of a rescission effected by service of a notice after the delivery of the goods to the consumer but before the notice is served:
 - (i) the goods were disposed of by the consumer, were lost, or were destroyed otherwise than by reason of a defect in the goods;
 - (ii) the consumer caused the goods to become unmerchantable or failed to take reasonable steps to prevent the goods from becoming unmerchantable; or
 - (iii) the goods were damaged by abnormal use; or
- (c) in the case of a rescission effected by return of the goods, while the goods were in the possession of the consumer:

- (i) the consumer caused the goods to become unmerchantable or failed to take reasonable steps to prevent the goods from becoming unmerchantable; or
 - (ii) the goods were damaged by abnormal use.
- (3) Where a contract for the supply of goods by any person to a consumer has been rescinded in accordance with this section:
- (a) if the property in the goods had passed to the consumer before the notice of rescission was served on, or the goods were returned to him, the property in the goods re-vests in the supplier upon the service of the notice or the return of the goods; and
 - (b) the consumer may recover from the supplier as a debt, the amount or value of any consideration paid or provided by him for the goods.
- (4) The right of rescission conferred by this section is in addition to, and not in derogation of, any other right or remedy under this Act or any other Act.

36. Whenever the terms and conditions which are to govern any consumer transaction are to be included, whether wholly or in part, in a standard form contract the terms and conditions shall be registered with the Commission in accordance with the regulations under this Act.
