A. MATUMA, J

The applicants are seeking extension of time to appeal against the decision of the District Land and Housing Tribunal in Land Appeal No. 138/2017. The major ground advanced and argued by Mr. Abdulkher Ahmad Advocate for the delay of the applicants to appeal is that the District Land and Housing Tribunal after it delivered its judgment, the applicants applied to be supplied with the same for appeal purposes but they could not be served with it until when the prescribed time for appeal expired, hence this application.

The respondent did not show up nor filed counter affidavit.

I therefore, take it that this application is not contravened by the respondent and I find the same to have been brought with sufficient cause.

I allow it and extend to the applicants twenty-one (21) days from today within which they should lodge their appeal in accordance to the law.

No orders as to costs.

It is so ordered.
